Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Test and baby returned yesterday from Kansas City where Mrs. Test had under gone a successful operation for throat trouble.

A program and pie supper will be given at Oak Arbor school house on Friday night, November 21, to which all are invited. Miss Queenie Lamme is teacher at Oak Arbor.

Here's a tip. Flour is advancing by leaps and bounds and you can't go wrong in laying in your winter supply. Fanchon $3.25 per sack for a limited time. The Home Store.

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Lamme are the proud parents of a fine seven pound boy born to them Monday, and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Lamme and W. H. Glover are delighted over their first grandchild.

Under direction of the teacher, Miss Perry, the pupils of the colored school will give an entertainment at the opera house Thanksgiving night, the proceeds for the benefit of the school.

There will be a divorce case and pie supper at the Locust Creek school house on Wednesday night, November 26, to be given by the school. Miss Amber Montgomery, a graduate of the Laclede high school, is teacher.

Manager Shell, of the Talbott grain company, begun shelling corn this week, turning out the first car Wednesday. Corn is of good quality and dry for this season of the year. While he expects a big run he does not believe the company will handle as many cars as they did two years ago.

High School Notes

Karl Mathiasch, who has been absent from school since the carnival, returned Monday.

The juniors, who usually accomplish whatever undertaken, had charge of chapel Monday. The program, not very long (nor serious), was quite good and enjoyed by everyone. The juniors were the first class to conduct chapel. Do you know the reason that they were selected?

Some of our new library books have come. Only about half of the order was filled, but we are truly glad to have them, although we have no place to put them except in vacant desks.

The Laclede high school basketball girls are putting in some good practice in an effort to win a victory over the Linneus girls Friday. The game will be on the Linneus court. Linneus has not been defeated this season and the Laclede girls would like to have the honor of being the first team to defeat them. Go to Linneus Friday afternoon and help Laclede win.

Wednesday morning chapel was conducted by the Senior class. A very interesting mock history class was held. Special reports were given by members of the class on subjects centering around the Laclede school, as it might be told three centuries from today.

The boys' football team will play the Marceline team Friday, November 21, at 3:30 at Highland park. Their last game was a victory and there is no reason why this game should not be one too. The girls defeated the Marceline basketball team fourteen points and here's hoping the boys do as well. The one thing the boys need is backing.

Basketball and football season will soon be over and the interest of the townspeople in education is apt to die out. Why don't the citizens of Laclede, old and young, get together as they used to and "cypher" and "spell"?

Supporting a French Orphan

The regular meeting of the Royal Neighbors was held at the home of Miss Ella Ong Friday, the past oracle, Mrs. Landree, presiding. Among other matters of business it was decided to keep the camp's French orphan another year, funds to be raised by voluntary assessment of 50 cents per member. A photograph of the little girl was shown and a card from her mother read, thanking the Neighbors for allowing her daughter to be kept at home. After the business session a social hour was enjoyed, the hostess serving delicious refreshments.

Stock Shipment

Manager Patterson went to St. Joseph Tuesday night with a car of cattle and a car of hogs and sheep for the following members of the shipping association: C. V. Jennings, Jas. Mahurin, H. M. Standly, Chas. Taylor, J. T. McKanna, T. M. Bresnehan, C. C. Anderson, Carl Wilson, J. Finley Farrar, G. W. Syme, Jas. Wood, W. M. Perkins, W. O. Anderson, O. A. Potter, Cecil Welsh, J. G. Clinefelter, Fred Keune, S. P. Myers, Roy Bailey, C. M. Burnett, Earnest Adams, Walter Sanders and J. P. Harter.

Shelby Cross has bought the R. T. Wallace farm of 120 acres adjoining town on the southwest of Dr. Rusk of Linneus. He is to get possession soon when Mr. and Mrs. Wallace move to their farm near Gardner, Kans.

ON LOCAL SUBJECTS

Local Items and Interesting Bits of News of All Sorts

On account of Thanksgiving The Blade will be printed one day earlier than usual next week, the last forms being closed early Wednesday afternoon. Copy for advertising and all local notices should be in as early in the week as possible to insure insertion.

E. E. Berry will hold a public sale at his home one and a half miles east of Laclede next Monday, November 24. Mr. Berry has recently bought property in town, having sold his farm some time ago to D. E. Stark. Mr. Berry is now employed by the Talbott grain company.

The Bassett garage building is nearing completion, the cement floor being put in this week. Work on it has been dragging on account of the slow shipment of material. The building is 50x100 feet, built of hollow tile and cement and when completed will be one of the largest and best equipped garages in this part of the state.

H. H. Albin, an old time Laclede boy, sends in a dollar this week to have The Blade mailed to him at Manistique, Mich. Mr. Albin has been in railroad work at Chicago for a number of years but recently bought a valuable piece of farm land in Michigan and is devoting his time to agriculture. He is a brother of Section Foreman Joe Albin of Laclede.

Amos Lewis and his son, Galen, who recently sold their farms five miles southwest of Laclede, will hold a big public sale next Tuesday when 65 head of Shorthorn cattle, some horses, hogs and farm machinery will be put up at auction. The elder Mr. Lewis will move to Laclede, having bought the Henry Kraft residence property while Galen will move to an 80 acre farm he has bought south of Meadville. The sale is advertised in The Blade today.

If you put wood alcohol into your radiator to keep the water from freezing and then after running a while are inclined to light a match to see if you need more water, don't do it. At least this is the advice A. E. Johnston would probably give should you consult him. He knows it is not safe for he unthoughtfully tried it. The explosion nearly knocked him down, burned his face and singed off his eyebrows and wipers, and it is certainly pleasing to know that he was not more seriously hurt.

Mayor Allen has leased his 260 acre farm located in the northern part of Macon county to Ed. Randall for a term of three years. Mr. Allen and Mr. Randall visited the farm Monday and arranged to get immediate possession. It will be operated as a dairy and chicken farm, to be stocked with a fine herd of dairy cattle and purebred chickens. Mr. and Mrs. Randall have been successful in farming and poultry and we do not believe Mayor Allen could have got better tenants.

For farm loans see Z. R. Kling, Laclede.

Brought Here For Burial

Dr. F. W. Burke went to Little Blue, Monday and returned Tuesday night with the remains of his brother-in-law, Edward Lee Maxey, who passed away Sunday after an illness of only a few hours, although he had been incapacitated for about three years.

Deceased was born Nov. 11, 1865, was a harness maker by trade and had spent the greater part of his life at Norborne and Kansas City. He leaves an aged mother, Mrs. S. A. Maxey of Laclede, and two sisters, Mrs. John T. Lomax of San Benito, Texas, and Mrs. F. W. Burke of Laclede. Funeral services were held at the Burke home Wednesday afternoon conducted by Rev. Layton and the remains buried in the Laclede cemetery. His father, four brothers and one sister are buried at Norborne.

The bereaved relatives have the sympathy of their many Laclede friends.

Airplane Here

Laclede got its first close-up view of an airplane yesterday. About noon a huge plane came from the south flying low and after circling town a couple of times landed in Geo. Farrar's pasture at the east edge of town.

It carried two men and after a half hour took to the air, landing the next time in Peter Smith's pasture where it spent the afternoon taking up passengers at a dollar a minute.

Yank's Quartet Coming

The Yank's Quartet, the first number of the lyceum course, will be given at the opera house on Saturday evening, December 6. There are four numbers in the the course, all good ones, and season tickets are now being sold at one dollar for adults and 50 cents for those of school age. If the soliciting committee has not seen you, call Mrs. Clay, the chairman, and you will be supplied. Single admission will be 25 and 35 cents.

Hemstitching

Hemstitching and pecking orders given prompt and careful attention. Price 10 cent per yard. I furnish white cotton thread only. Send other threads and remittance along with order. Mrs. Marvin McDavid, 206 W. Dake street, Brookfield, phone 226J.

Thanksgiving Service

Union Thanksgiving services will be held at the Methodist church Thursday, November 27, at 10:00 a. m. Sermon by Rev. Ralph Craig, pastor of the Baptist church.

Special music. Come, let us worship together and make it a day of thanksgiving and prayer.

Taxes Now Due

The tax-books for Jefferson township are now in my hands for collections. The school district is short of funds and it would be appreciated by the board and be a great help to the school for as many as possible to pay their taxes at once that the teachers may be paid promptly. Office at the Tlorne furniture store.

C. F. SAYLES,
Township Collector.

Why pay 70 or 75 cents a pound for butter when you can buy Nucos for 40 cents. Once used you will become a regular customer on it. The Home Store.
